

VMAC welcomes Brian Buckley to our Sales Team

VMAC would like to welcome Brian Buckley to our Outside Sales team. He will be serving dealers and end-users directly in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Brian started his career as a mechanical engineer designing brakes for large industrial equipment. After about seven years, he realized he could be most effective in sales because of his ability to communicate with people who do not have the technical engineering background, as well as the engineers themselves.

In this role at VMAC, he will be traveling around his region, supporting and growing VMAC's dealer network; and meeting with end-users and learning about their needs and finding solutions for their problems.

"I'm excited for the new challenge. I'm excited to work as part of a team, but also use my skills individually to make a difference for our dealers and end-users," Brian says. "It'll be great to be doing something different every day, and having boots on the ground."

Brian is born and raised in Ohio where he still lives. His deep knowledge of the automotive industry, and the issues that matter to people living in his region will serve him and his clients in good stead.

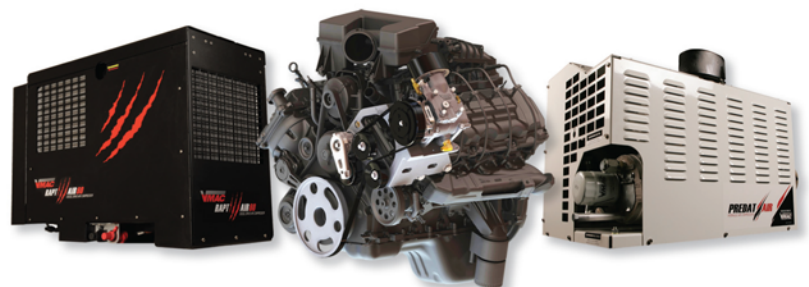

When Brian isn't working, he can be found with his kids outside, enjoying nature. "I'm a father and an outdoorsmen. I like hunting and fishing and just being outside and away from all the screens. It's great to unplug from everything," he says.

"We know that Brian is going to be a great addition to VMAC," says Dan Hutchinson, VP of Sales and Marketing. "He clearly cares about the people he's serving and will stop at nothing to make sure they are very well taken care of."
